U.S. CATTLE WILL COMPETE AT WILLOWS

Stockmen Already Calling For Entry Blanks For Provincial Fall Fair

After an absence last year, through foot and mouth disease regulations, stock from United States herds will again compete with Canadian stock at the Provincial Fall Fair at the Willows next month. Assurance has already been given that some of the finest cattle in Canada will be shown here this Summer and inquiries coming from U.S. breeders indicate that there will be keen competition between the stockmen of the two countries for honors.
Secretary W. H. Mearns announces that one of the first entries is from the Oak Grove Stock Farm, Teno, Wash., where it is claimed there is one of the finest herds of shorthorns in the United States. Known as the Hercules model the stock includes the grand champion of the International Livestock Exposition in 1921. J. D. McGuire, the owner of the herd, is also a Berkshire hog breeder and will offer competition in this class also.
Preliminary work to make this year's fair a success and one that will contain an appeal to the whole community has already started. "We want to make it a citizens' fair," W. H. Mearns states, "and to do this we realize that it must be comprehensive. Both the exhibits and the amusements must contain features so that all the people in the city will be interested."

Minneapolis, July 7.—Attacking members of his family with a large knife while they were sleeping, Ernest Franzen killed his wife and one of his children early to-day and sent four other children into the street in their nightclothes, injured and screaming for help. He then killed himself.

Four other children ranging in age from eleven to sixteen years, sought hiding-places in terror when the father ran amuck, but all were slashed, one seriously, before they were able to evade him and flee from the house. Ethel, eleven years old, was reported in a serious condition with a wound in the neck.
The authorities believe Buckley's fear of punishment for staying away from home all day was purely imaginary. Statements made, not only by the lad's mother, but also by friends of the family, declare he was well treated at home.

GOLD STANDARD

Reply to Mr. Lloyd George, the Board of Trade President said Britain had suffered no kind of injury by reverting to the gold standard.

He was of the opinion that the present depression in trade was only temporary, and believed the trade position might become all right if a voluntary effort were made to buy British goods.

Arrests Follow

Theft in Rome

Rome, July 7.—One of the principal organizers of the robbery of the treasury of St. Peter's Friday night was arrested last evening and the precious objects stolen were recovered. Three accomplices also were seized by the police.

Police Commissioner Marotta, pretending he was a receiver of stolen goods, got in contact with a former shoemaker named Mariano Stella, one of the men who plotted the robbery and who is believed to have concealed the precious objects stolen. The police commissioner in this way was able to recover the objects last evening, and Stella was arrested.

Numerous other arrests have been made, including six workmen who were engaged in repairs in the interior of the palace where the treasury is situated. They are suspected of having participated in the crime.

The articles stolen and recovered are valued at more than 1,000,000 lire, or about $20,000. They include the ring set with diamonds and a great sapphire which is placed on a finger of the statue of St. Peter on special occasions and a complete service of gold adorned with precious stones.

MIGRATION DEBATED AT PACIFIC MEETING

Honolulu, July 7.—Chester Rowell, California, speaking at a public meeting of the Institute of Pacific Relations here last night on "The Immigration Policy of the United States and the California Viewpoint," defended the immigration law, but attacked the lack of courtesy exercised in framing the policy.

If the Japanese immigration law was debatable at all, he said, it was not debatable with Californians, who were a frontier people guarding the Western gate.

Some said it was not a racial but an economic question. The fact remained that it was a racial question. Assimilation finally came down to the question of marriage, said Mr. Rowell.

"If an Italian peasant comes to the United States," said Mr. Rowell, "he is outside my social contact, but there is no reason why his grandson can not marry my granddaughter; but any people who do not undergo that status are unassimilable. We Americans will not admit that our granddaughters can marry grandsons of Orientals; therefore we consider them non-assimilable."

Commenting on the cosmopolitanism of Hawaii, Mr. Rowell said: "What Hawaii does is Hawaii's business. The world can well afford to spare Hawaii for the experiment, so you can go on and solve the problem by intermingling or the caste system."

CASTE SYSTEM

Pointing to the caste system of India, Mr. Rowell said: "A caste system in the United States would be the result if we should permit wholesale immigration."

Commenting on the cosmopolitanism of Hawaii, Mr. Rowell said: "What Hawaii does is Hawaii's business. The world can well afford to spare Hawaii for the experiment, so you can go on and solve the problem by intermingling or the caste system."

were met out to Morton S. Hawkins, former president of the defunct Hawkins Mortgage Company, on charges of using the mails to defraud in connection with operation of the concern, by Judge Robert Baltzell here yesterday.

Counsel for Hawkins, who was found guilty by a jury last week, immediately filed notice of an appeal, and Judge Baltzell granted the defendant twenty days to raise a bond of $50,000, and perfect his appeal. Should he fail to raise the bond or perfect his appeal during that period he must begin serving his sentence, the court ruled. Meanwhile he will remain in jail.

Hawkins, the Government charged, mulcted investors out of between $4,000,000 and $6,000,000 by the operations of his company.

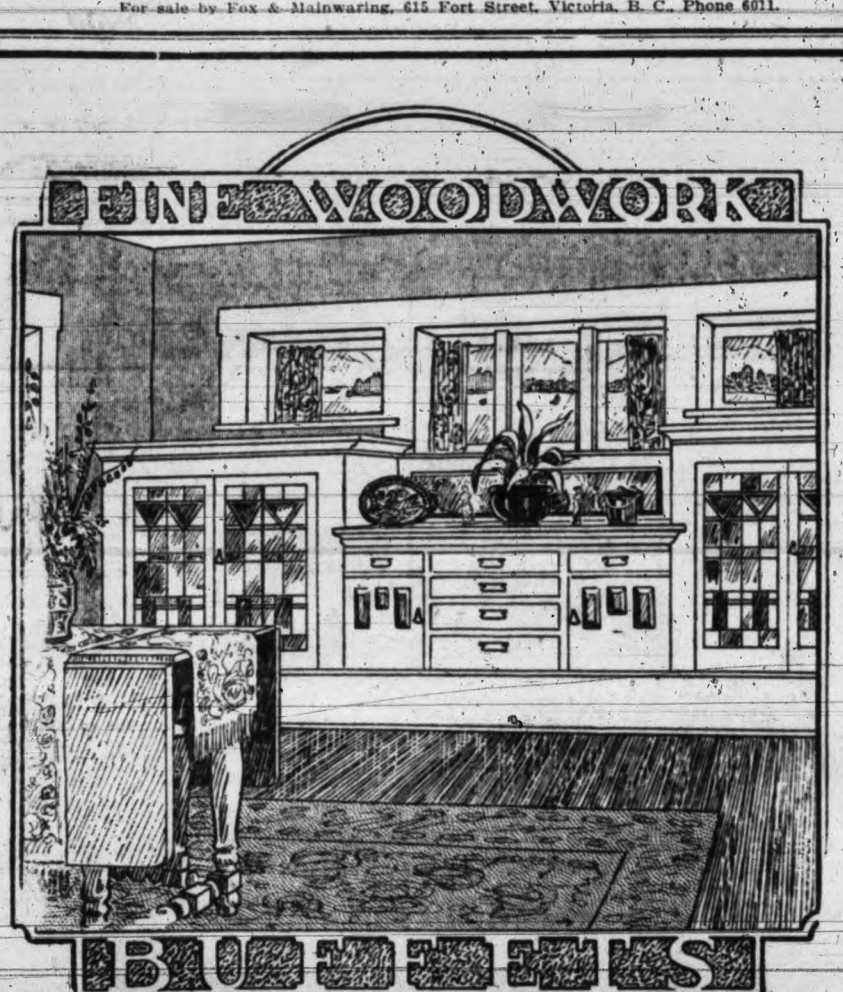

Fourteen associates of Hawkins were convicted several months ago of fraud in connection with the operations of the Hawkins Company. Twelve of those convicted appealed to the United States district court of appeals, where the cases are now pending.

SUMMARY OF BRITISH TRADE WAS GIVEN

Sir P. Cunliffe-Lister Says He Believes Present Depression
Is Only Temporary

London, July 7. (Canadian Press Cable).—An interim summary of the condition of British trade was given by Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, President of the Board of Trade, in introducing the estimates of that department in the House of Commons yesterday.

In the first three months of 1925, he said, the coal and pig iron outputs were 92 per cent and 67 per cent of the output of 1923, respectively. The former was steadily falling. Coal exports diminished 25 per cent. Steel production remained unchanged, but was lower in proportion to the amount of shipbuilding. The engineering business, he said, was narrowing, the only exceptions to the general depression being motors, which were booming, and the electrical industry, which was comparatively prosperous.

TEXTILE TRADE

Orders of textiles were dwindling. There had been a serious setback in the wool industry, and he emphasized the importance of the advice that nobody in the woolen trades should hold up stock. The linen trade he pronounced bad.

Rubber was a comparatively bright spot, and the chemical industry was progressing.

Shipping freights were the lowest on record.

THE PUTMAN-WEIR REPORT

UNTIL IT HAS BEEN possible to study the whole of the evidence it is somewhat difficult to discuss the proposals which Dr. Putman and Dr. Weir have made to the Government of this Province in connection with our educational system. The nature of their recommendations, however, reflect the thoroughness with which they have conducted their examination and it is safe to say that a valuable document has been compiled.

Of very considerable importance to the taxpayer is that phase of the investigators' report which relates to the financing of the school system. It is clear that he will consent to nothing at this juncture that is likely to add to his burden unless he can be convinced that it is practical economy to adopt it. In this connection there can be no objection to levying on incomes which at present escape all forms of taxation. And if such additional expense as may be incurred by the utilization of some of the more important recommendations of the Commission can be defrayed by this means, there would seem to be nothing to hinder its approval. But the general reformation of the whole system of financing which the report considers of first importance will have to be carried out on the understanding that its ultimate object be a more equitable distribution of cost—without additional burden.

One of the most interesting recommendations is that which relates to the establishment of junior High Schools. Presumably the purpose of this institution would be to determine what a pupil was best adapted for—and therefore the course of study he or she should be encouraged to follow in the higher grade. If this is the intention the Commissioners have in mind, the proposal undoubtedly should be adopted both on economic and educational grounds. It is an essentially practical suggestion if only for the reason that such a form of preliminary training should enable the teacher to observe the nature of the pupil's development in all important particulars. It should at least reduce the number of square pegs that seem to get into round holes under the present method, and curtail waste of time, energy and expense. Nor should this departure entail additional cost.

What revision of the Normal School curricula is proposed is not apparent from the bare recommendation or the summary so far made public. The Commissioners very naturally appreciate the importance of the teacher's training. On the product of the Normal School the greater part of the success of the educational system obviously depends. It may be assumed that the terms of the recommendation in this respect embrace a full recognition of the needs of changing times in the modern classroom.

Such encouragement as may be given to the teacher in rural communities should be given without hesitation. This is necessary to the maintenance of satisfactory standards in our rural schools. It is important also that this encouragement should be assured in order that the Province may not lose the value of training for which the taxpayers have paid.

Many other points in the report will merit study as soon as the full details are available. In the meantime it is safe to say that the authorities are in possession of a valuable amount of information the examination of which should lead to a very considerable improvement in our educational system.

SURPRISING

CAPTAIN ROALD Amundsen says that neither he nor Lincoln Ellsworth will attempt to reach the North Pole again in an aeroplane. Rather do both consider success to be more feasible by the use of a dirigible. This announcement will surely come as a surprise to many people.

The recent expedition was undertaken by two heavier-than-air machines. One of them returned to safety, the other remaining fast in the ice, and this partial victory no doubt suggested to most people that, given a type of machine calculated to withstand elements with which the great explorer is now familiar, the chief objective could be reached. This is the prospect which Amundsen himself has apparently destroyed.

The point of interest in connection with an attempt to fly to the North Pole in a lighter-than-air machine is that there is no record of a dirigible landing safely without the assistance of a large ground force. One immediately asks how such a monster is going to alight on a treacherous ice field and remain out of danger sufficiently long enough for its pilot and crew to conduct the investigations which are, after all, the object of polar exploration?

It would seem that to fly to the Pole and back in a dirigible without a stop should be within the realms of possibility. But what object would be served if no opportunity for scientific investigation presented itself?

WILL NOW BEHAVE

IF THE DOUKHOBORS OF British Columbia are really in earnest, and intend to obey the laws of this country in the future, the provincial authorities will soon be able to rid themselves of a situation which has caused them a good deal of trouble and the taxpayers a considerable amount of expense. For some years past these people have indulged in extraordinary manifestations of dislike of the school laws of the Province and their more recent objections have taken the form of wholesale destruction of school property. So long as the community sulks in the more or less harmless fashion peculiar to the beliefs of the sect, and refrained from making a too public display of their annoyance, the authorities were prepared to be patient; but when this form of defiance developed into a campaign of destruction of public property, it was necessary to take a sterner course. This the Government took some time ago and, in spite of the political interpretation which was put upon it in some quarters during a recent election campaign, it seems to have had the desired effect. In any event the arrival of the new leader from Russia, who promises good behavior for the future, should mark a new beginning in the progress of a substantial body of thrifty and industrious people.

A NOTABLE VISIT

ON JULY 15 VICTORIA will welcome 150 young French-Canadians who are seeing Western Canada on a specially arranged educational trip under the auspices of the University of Montreal.

The significance of this event lies in the fact that this is the first endeavor to be made with a view towards giving the student class of French-Canadian citizens an opportunity of learning more about the Dominion of Canada and at the same time to inaugurate a campaign to induce our fellow citizens from Quebec to travel more extensively in Canada than they have in the past. This party, under the supervision of M. Edouard Montpetit, of the University of Montreal, will make its twenty-one-day tour over the Canadian Pacific Railway visiting Vancouver Island and the interior of British Columbia before returning east.

Railroad statistics show that in Canada and particularly Western Canada tourist travel is made up in the following proportions: Americans 85 per cent., Canadians 10 per cent., and British 5 per cent. It has also been observed that the French-Canadians who travel at all take an occasional trip to Europe or Florida, but that few of them have seen any other part of Canada beyond the confines of their own province.

The result of this experiment therefore should be far-reaching in bringing these young French-Canadians into personal acquaintance with their fellow Canadians. Recently exchange courtesies have been enjoyed between the provinces of Quebec and Ontario through the medium of special travel parties which have already done much towards weaving a closer relationship and a better understanding between these two sections of the Dominion.

Mayor Pendray, the Chamber of Commerce, and the Publicity Bureau have already forwarded official invitations to M. Edouard Montpetit, expressing the eagerness of the citizens of Vancouver Island to welcome the French-Canadian party, and it is understood that although the various Universities throughout the Dominion will be closed at the time of the tour a representative will be on hand to extend a welcome on their behalf in each province and to direct the visiting students through these institutions.

Baron Byng in his recent address at the Coast stressed the vital necessity of building up a Canadian ideal and breaking down sectionalism in the Dominion. In the light of these remarks from Canada's Governor-General what could be more appropos or tend more towards the welding together of the Dominion's far-flung provinces than the forthcoming visit to British Columbia of a student body of young French-Canadians?

HEALTH & DISEASE
LEAD POISONING

Workers with lead in any form, as painters, plumbers, glaziers or workers in lead, may acquire poisoning. Poisoning has occurred through drinking water flowing through lead pipes.

The symptoms may come on very suddenly, as early as three days after contact, or may be quite gradual.

Painters are usually familiar with the "kinks" in the abdomen, and constipation. However, much graver symptoms may arise, such as a rapidly progressive anemia, or acute neuritis.

In the more chronic forms of poisoning the blood cells show remarkable granules in staining, which are of great help in diagnosis. There is another point of value, a blue line in the gums, found in many cases.

When lead poisoning attacks the nervous system, the results are serious, palsies and paralysis often existing. The brain may be affected, causing headaches, convulsions, even maniacal symptoms. Hardening of the arteries is common.

All workers with lead should be scrupulously careful to clean their hands and fingernails before handling food. And lead workers should be careful to state his occupation when asking for advice.

AESCULAPUS.

WHO'S WHO IN HISTORY TO-DAY

THOMAS HOOKER
 English clergyman, an early emigrant to Massachusetts, died at Hartford, Conn., on July 7, 1647. He was one of the organizers of the Connecticut colony, and founded the city of Hartford.

GEORGE MONK
 English general, was created Earl of Torrington and Duke of Albemarle, on July 7, 1660. In the civil war he was an adherent of Charles I, but after being captured by the Parliamentary party and imprisoned in the Tower, he became a supporter of Oliver Cromwell, serving under him as Governor of Scotland. After the latter's death, he welcomed Charles II to England.

WILLIAM PULTENEY
 (Earl of Bath) English statesman, a prominent Whig in the reign of Queen Anne, died on July 7, 1764. At first he was a friend of Sir Robert Walpole, and defended him when he was sent to the Tower; later, when Walpole neglected him, he became an opponent. On the accession of George I, he became secretary of war.

RICHARD BRINSLEY SHERIDAN
 Noted British dramatist, orator, politician, and wit, died at London on July 7, 1816. His best plays, all written before he was thirty years old, are "The Rivals," "The School of Scandal," and "The Critic." ## A CONUNDRUM

To the Editor:—Through the columns of The Colonist Mr. Cecil French takes the time to ask for what he describes as "a premature and misleading statement" in yesterday afternoon's paper regarding his plans for the erection of a new building in the city. He says that while it is true "certain walls and foundations" of the contemplated structure have been erected, "no further contract has yet been made, nor have we even yet arrived at any estimate of the cost of the building I have in view, so that the statement in The Times are quite unauthorized and incorrect, and this is the second occasion The Times has been guilty in this connection."

Assuming Mr. French intends to complete the building, how does he know The Times printed wrongly if no estimate of its cost has been reached? CURIOUS.

EIGHT DROWNED
AT ONTARIO PICNIC

Seven Children and a Woman
 Lost Lives in Small Lake
 Near St. Thomas

Two Flat-bottomed Boats
 Held Together by Planks
 Suddenly Capsized

St. Thomas, Ont., July 7.—Eight persons, seven children and a woman, were drowned last night in a small lake, a body of water adjacent to this city, when two flat-bottomed boats, planked together, capsized, throwing twenty-four persons into the water.

The accident happened at about 8 p.m. The light from automobile headlights enabled searchers to work. Seven bodies were recovered close to where the boats had turned turtle, about fifty yards from shore.

The accident occurred when the little lake, on which the picnic party was enjoying a ride on the "swan boat," was surrounded by hundreds of spectators, including parents and friends of the victims. It was one of the most tragic occurrences of recent times in this part of Ontario.

Without a moment's warning, the boat load of twenty-one children passengers, a larger boy and two women suddenly capsized and twelve feet of water. While they were struggling with death, every man who could make any pretence at swimming leaped into the lake and swam to the scene of the accident. Meanwhile women fainted and became hysterical. What a moment before had been a merry Sunday school picnic was turned into a tragedy.

The promptness with which the rescuers reached the spot prevented many more of the children being drowned.

News of the tragedy spread like wildfire through the town. The whole of the fire department and all available police were rushed to the rescue.

Monday was selected by three Anglican churches as the day upon which to hold a union picnic at Pinafore Park. The three churches were St. John's and Trinity Churches, of St. Thomas, and St. Luke's Church, Yarmouth Heights.

Trade Pact is to Be Ratified Soon

Ottawa, July 7.—Ratification by the House of Commons of the trade agreement with Canada is expected within a week, according to cable advices received here. It is further stated there will be no difficulty over the sanctioning of the agreement this time by the Commonwealth Parliament, which is about ending its session.

Under the terms of the arrangement, it is to become effective by proclamation at a date to be mutually agreed upon, but the intention of the Canadian Government is that there should be the least possible delay, probably not more than thirty days.

NO REPEATING OF TEAPOT DOME CASE

Cheyenne, Wyo., July 7.—Federal Judge T. Blake Kennedy late yesterday denied the motion of Government counsel, Atlee Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, for a rehearing of the Teapot Dome oil reserve lease annulment suit on the ground that additional testimony for the Government was not available.

Judge Kennedy also signed a decree dismissing the lease annulment suit against the Mammoth Oil Company, entering the dismissal as of June 19, the date of his decision in the case.

GOVERNMENT RANGE
POLICY SUCCESS,
CATTLE MEN AGREE

Interior Ranchers Well Satisfied, Pattullo Finds During Cattle Tour

Government Plans New War to Wipe Out Wild Horses on B.C. Ranges

Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, returned to his office to-day after a tour of the Lillooet and Cariboo cattle districts well satisfied with the success of the Government's present grazing policies. While a number of complaints have been received from cattle men, Mr. Pattullo stated sentiment in the interior is practically unanimous in pronouncing the Government's range policy a wise one.

Some complaints of administration were made to Mr. Pattullo. These the Minister has not yet had time to review in Victoria in the light of information given. He expressed the opinion, however, that these objections were in considerable measure due to misunderstanding and to the desire of some of the residents to arrive at a new destination by old-time methods, rather than by the application of effort to new and essential methods.

A work that met with praise from everyone, Mr. Pattullo stated, is the elimination of wild horses which is now in process by the department. Last year 1,350 head of wild horses were shot. This very much strengthens the available range but there are several thousand wild horses still at large. These will be dealt with, the Minister said, the difficult problem is that there are many branded horses running with the wild horses.

Mr. Pattullo said that the country was looking exceptionally well and that there was promise of a heavy hay crop.

Speaking in Vancouver yesterday, Mr. Pattullo said: "It has already been demonstrated that grazing in the Lillooet and Cariboo can be made a commercial success. There is no reason why we should not be able to graze hundreds of thousands of cattle in that country, building up a new industry to the benefit of the Province as a whole."

Mr. Pattullo was accompanied on the trip by three members of the Legislature: A. D. Paterson of Delta, A. E. Munn of Lillooet, and David Stoddard of Cariboo.

PAINS IN BACK AND SIDES

Ended by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Fusilier, Sask.—"For two or three days every so often I would have such pains in my back and sides that I could not do anything—could not even lie quietly in bed, and my head ached, too. I was in this way about three years, but was worse after I was married. I was on a farm with not a house nearer than five miles and there was not a person to advise me, as my folks lived in Manitoba. My sister-in-law told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told me to try it. I took her advice and have been thankful for it ever since. After taking the medicine for three months I can say it has helped me a lot and I am doing fine. I am glad to recommend the Vegetable Compound to others and you may publish my testimonial."—Mrs. HELEN BALANOFF, Fusilier, Saskatchewan.

Often some slight trouble will cause a general upset of the system. Such symptoms as nervousness, painful twinges, irregularity, backache and headache indicate some form of female weakness.

Women so bothered should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. This dependable medicine has helped thousands of women and it is reasonable to expect that it will help you. Try it today. Your druggist sells this medicine.

Man Struck by Gravel Car Died

Vancouver, July 7.—Suffering from internal injuries received when he was run over by a flat car while employed as a laborer at the pits of the Deek Gravel Company at Porteau, Howe Sound, yesterday, George Bush, twenty-four, succumbed in St. Paul's Hospital here last night.

Bush was said to have received his fatal injuries while attempting to stop a moving flat car. Reports received at the hospital indicate he stood in the path of the car, whose momentum proved too great for him. He was struck in the abdomen and fell beneath the car.

TOM MIX WINS FANS
IN "DEADWOOD COACH"
SHOWING AT COLUMBIA

When Clarence Mulford wrote "The Orphan" he furnished Tom Mix with the greatest motion picture story of his career. It came to the screen last night at the Columbia Theatre in a superb William Fox production under the title, "The Deadwood Coach." There are more thrills, more action, more humor and more scenic beauty in this production than in any Mix picture. It has been our pleasure to review.

According to the producers, "The Deadwood Coach" was taken in Zion Canyon, Utah, and for a great picture background for this splendid romance of the Old West, the location could not be surpassed. The stage coach held up the running fight with bandits, the grim hand to hand struggle on the brink of a towering cliff, all are presented in a setting so real, so beautiful as to make you wish that you lived in those blood-thrilling days.

The story of "The Deadwood Coach" concerns the Orphan, an outcast who is feared throughout the territory, but who, in reality, is the enemy of only one man. When he was a boy, his father was killed by a bandit named Tex Wilson, and the Orphan has dedicated his life to vengeance.

DORIS KENYON IN NEW FILM TRIUMPH
NOW AT COLISEUM

Doris Kenyon, long a favorite of the stage and screen, presents one of the finest characterizations of her career in "Idle Tongues." Thomas H. Ince's screen version of the novel, "Idle Tongues," by Joseph C. Lincoln.

Her role is that of a small town girl who falls victim to neighborhood gossip because of her love for a physician suspected of theft. Percy Marmont, in the role of "Dr. Nye," eventually vindicates himself and the couple are united amid the cheering of the entire village, but the events leading up to this climax afford Miss Kenyon opportunity for some splendid emotional acting.

Through education and training Miss Kenyon is well fitted for the role. Educated at Columbia University, she began her stage career with such successes as "Princess Pat," "The White Girl," and others.

Her screen work dates back to the old Essanay days and won her immediate note from the start. Some of her recent pictures were "The Conquest of Canaan," "The Ruling Passion," and "Shadows of the Sea."

"Idle Tongues" was directed by Lambert Hillier for Thomas Ince and is a First National release. Showing this week at the Coliseum.

TRADE IN FRUIT

Canada grants the West Indies and other colonies preferential treatment on tropical fruits, bananas, cocoa, sugar and other products.

The West Indies and other colonies grant Canada substantial increases on such products as butter, cheese, lard, apples, potatoes, meats, confectionery, cement, lumber, boots and shoes, flour and cordage.

These items are granted such increased preferences as it is hoped, when taken in conjunction with the new steamship services, providing cold storage, will greatly widen the market and create a greater demand for the products of the countries in the agreement.

The preferences granted by Canada on bananas, cocoa, tinned pineapples, limes and other tropical products will result in an increase of trade from the British West Indies, thus permitting the expansion of production in those islands and allowing them to buy more freely from Canada.

Thompson-Paula

Appeal is Taken

Vancouver, July 7.—Notice of appeal from the decision of the Appeal Court of British Columbia has been served by W. C. Ross for C. G. Thompson and Frank de Paula, convicted of the Capitol Theatre robbery here.

Thompson was also convicted of the city payroll robbery charge.

Their solicitor is seeking leave to carry the case to Ottawa and is making his appeal on questions of law.

In each case the judge's charge to the jury will form the basis of the appeal.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggly and the Butterfly

Copyright, 1925, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate
(By Howard R. Garls)

One day when the rabbit gentleman was hopping through the woods, not far from his hollow stump bungalow, wondering whether or not he would have an adventure, he heard some voices talking.

"It's mine! I saw it first!" cried one.

"It isn't! It's mine! I'm a girl and I ought to have it to make me look stylish!"

"That sounds like my two little rabbit twins, Weezie and Wizzie," thought Uncle Wiggly to himself. "When they had been a little way farther into the wood he saw the little boy and girl bunnies standing near a low bush looking at something at the top of it.

"What is it, children?" asked Mr. Longears. "What is it that you both want?"

"It's a fan," answered Weezie. "It's a beautiful fan, Daddyscum, and I ought to have it, 'cause I'm a girl."

"But it's a double fan," exclaimed Wizzie. "It has two parts to it and they keep moving up and down, and I could have one part and Weezie the other part."

"Let me look," suggested Uncle Wiggly, and when he had peered at the bush where the two little rabbits had been looking, he saw a beautiful butterfly, though it was moving up and down to look like a double fan, I must say. But it is a wonder to me that the butterfly didn't flutter away when you looked at it so closely and talked so loudly. "Maybe it's sick and can't fly," suggested Wizzie.

"Perhaps," agreed Mr. Longears. But when he looked he saw that though the butterfly was very sick, it was in trouble. The beautiful creature had lighted on the bush to put its long, curled back tongue into a deep honey-suckle flower to sip the sweet juice.

New, the sweet juice of the honey-suckle is rather sticky and a little of it had gotten on the butterfly's legs so that the sticky honey and the bush could not get loose to fly away.

"Oh, the poor thing," murmured Weezie when Uncle Wiggly had told her what the trouble was.

"Couldn't you take my knife and cut the sticky part?" asked Wizzie.

"I'm afraid I might hurt the poor creature," said the bunny gentleman. "What I had better do is to put a little drop of water from the brook on the sticky place. The drop of water will be warmed by the sun and will melt the sticky honey, and then the butterfly can pull its leg loose."

"Oh, please do that!" begged the butterfly. She was slowly moving its beautiful golden-red and black wings up and down. "Please do!"

With the end of a twig Uncle Wiggly put a drop of water where it would melt the sticky honey, and in a little while the butterfly was free. But before flying away it whispered, "Thank you, Uncle Wiggly, and you too, rabbit children. Some time perhaps I can do you a kindness."

"Well, Weezie and Wizzie thought a butterfly could never do anything for them, but it only goes to show that you never can tell what is going to happen in this world."

For the very next day when Weezie and Wizzie were playing down by the brook, the butterfly flew down there. She was very hot and Weezie's rag doll had a little fever from the sun. But the butterfly perched on a twig near where the rag doll was lying on the ground. And with its wings it blew a little breeze that made such a cool breeze that Weezie's doll was cured of the fever.

And Wizzie was trying to say a little prayer for the brook, but there was no wind to blow the sails. So the butterfly flew near the boat and fluttered its beautiful wings until it made a little gale of wind and Wizzie's boat sailed over the water.

"Oh thank you so much, butterfly!" called the rabbit children. And the bunny gentleman winked his pink nose as he watched them. So if the gas stove doesn't try to run out on the front porch when it ought to stay in the kitchen and boil the potatoes, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly and the gold fish.

WILL OUTFIT YACHT IN LOCAL WATERS

Many Freighters Will Make Port in August From U.K. and Orient

Gear for the yacht Suva, shipped here from the Orient on board the Ss. Tyndareus in the Blue Funnel Line, will be taken back on that boat when she clears again for Seattle. She will clear again for this city, for whom the Suva was specially built, is going to outfit the yacht locally.

The Tyndareus was the first vessel of the line to put into practice the through ship shipments over the Canadian National road, the first cargo passing to New York in record time via Winnipeg. After leaving this port on July 15, Frank J. Pratt, of this city, for whom the Suva was specially built, is going to outfit the yacht locally.

Two vessels of the Harrison Direct Line will make port from United Kingdom ports in August, the Wanderer on August 10 and the Collegian on August 30. In the O.S.K. service the Africa Maru will dock on July 15, and the Arizona Maru on August 10.

In the Admiral Oriental service the President Jackson will pass out for the Orient on July 14, and the McKinley arrives two days later.

GRAIN ELEVATORS WILL DRAW OTHER BUSINESS TO THE WEST

British Columbia May Eventually Assume Considerable Importance as Grain Growing Country Says C.N.R. Director.

Increased business that is brought to a port by the erection of a grain elevator is touched upon by F. G. Dawson, director of the Canadian National Railways. Not only will the elevators being erected in the West turn more traffic in this direction but the incidental business which they will bring is a matter of considerable importance he states. Referring to shipping business in mentioning the elevator to be erected at Prince Rupert he said that the Government Merchant Marine had promised as soon as the elevator was in operation to inaugurate a four-ship service between Prince Rupert and the Orient making this their headquarters. Each of these ships would carry about 150,000 bushels of grain when loaded, in addition to a deck-load of lumber.

British Columbia with the establishment of more elevators may assume greater importance as a grain growing country Mr. Dawson claims. There was 3,500,000 acres of land in Central B.C. suitable for grain growing he continued. If only three per cent of this was cropped it would mean 100,000 acres and at the conservative estimate of twenty-five bushels to the acre there would be 2,500,000 bushels of grain. British Columbia alone. At a dollar a bushel this would realize $2,500,000 or about as much as was now being realized by the farmers from other sources.

Sixty-four Lawn Bowlers To Play For Peace Trophy

Greatest Singles Tournament in History of B.C. Will be Played Saturday

Nanaimo and Duncan Will Send Bowlers Here; Victoria Has Big Entry List

Sixty-four lawn bowlers from different parts of Vancouver Island will be here on Saturday to play for the Peace Cup. This competition, which will be a singles staged on the knockout system, has proved very attractive this year and it will be, without doubt, the greatest affair of its kind ever staged in the Province.

Nanaimo is sending down seven bowlers, while Duncan will have a like number. The C.P.R. club of Victoria has entered four stars, while Burnside will have ten representatives and the Victoria club thirty-six. Every man is bent on winning the championship.

Some of the matches between local pairs will be played on Friday evening in order that the competition may be decided on Saturday. The bowlers will begin to play on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and it is expected that they will be in action until 10 o'clock at night. The new lights at the Beacon Hill grounds, where the competition is to be staged, will make it possible to carry the matches on after darkness has settled over the land. The games up to the semi-finals will be 15 points, after that 21.

PERPETUATES PEACE DAY

The Peace Cup competition originated in the hearts of several sportsmen in the Government service who were anxious to perpetuate the glad memory of July 12, 1919. These sportsmen purchased a cup and presented it in trust to the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club for annual competition among bowlers on Vancouver Island and named it the "Peace Cup."

This is the seventh year of the competition. Twice the cup was won by Alex. McKeachie, once by Tom McCosh, once by J. M. Boyd and once by H. M. Wright, while the present holder is Dave Fyvie. All these holders, with the exception of Scott Fyvie, who will be busy at the Heals butts this week, accept the cup in present contentment, which promises to be the greatest of all.

Following is the draw, the first named in each case to make a run to the other side, and the second to apply to A. B. McNeill, chairman of the committee, for a "green" in Friday evening, as this will greatly facilitate the Saturday programme:

RALLY NIPPED

The Travelers attempted to come back in the eighth frame, but were nipped by the Eagles. The Eagles scored two runs on Potts's homer with one on. In the ninth inning the Travelers pulled off a neat bit of play when they worked a triple play. Nobody was out and the bases were filled with Roy Baker at bat. Roy laid down a bunt which Frank Moore fielded and threw to McGinnis at the home plate who caught the man and threw to first base, making the double play. The Eagles doubled for ball back fast from the initial ball and a passmore was caught at the plate attempting to make home on the play. The Eagles doubled and runner in the sixth, when a walk, a couple of hits and two errors allowed two runners to cross the plate.

AUCTION SALE OF CITY LOTS AUTHORIZED

Strong Protests Fail to Move Majority of Council

Sale Will be Conducted by C. S. Austin on August 20 and 22

Auction sale of 150 city owned lots was endorsed last night by the City Council, and a sale, conducted by the Charles S. Austin Company of Seattle, will take place on August 20 and 22.

The proposal was strenuously contested by Aldermen Woodward and Marchant, but when the matter finally came to a vote, only Alderman Shanks rallied to their support.

Alderman Dewart introduced the proposal, as chairman of the lands committee, and forthwith Alderman Woodward desired to be recorded as firmly opposed to any auction sale proceeding whatever.

Alderman Shanks pointed out that the local auctioneers "have a hard time making things meet, and ascertained that hopes that the Austin concern would bring a strong following of American land investors had been proven unfounded by the recent Oak Bay sale, which he declared was only attended by one American purchaser. "It was our local people who did the buying," he said.

THE EASY WAY
Alderman Dewart reminded the Aldermen that "The easy and popular thing to do would be to employ the local auctioneers, Austin is not an auctioneer in the same sense as the local auctioneers, he specializes in land sales." He asserted that the lands committee was now convinced that Mr. Austin would bring many outside purchasers here, as he had satisfied the committee that he had a large clientele. "He assured us that he can secure buyers for some of the city's properties," declared the chairman of the lands committee.

"We must get buyers from the other side of the line. The fact that the council has just authorized three sales to United States residents, the signs of prosperity, returning, the news of a terminal grain elevator, and other factors all help to bring Victoria to the eyes of American investing people," he said.

WOULD DELAY
Alderman Marchant appealed for delay, declaring the matter too important for hasty action. He asserted that the prices obtained in the recent sale of Oak Bay lots had been very poor. If Alderman Shanks was correct in stating that only one American had attended that venture it foreshadowed, in his opinion, very serious effects for Victoria, if the city permitted an auction sale, dispersing the values of privately held properties.

Alderman Marchant also objected to employment of an outside man as auctioneer, and to payment of higher commissions than are customarily allowed local real estate brokers. He also noted that the city was to pay the advertising costs, which Alderman Dewart stated would amount to $4,500 in all.

HANDSOME FEE
Alderman Woodward was informed that the buyers would contribute a further $1,500 to the auctioneer, if the whole of the lots scheduled for sale were disposed of, each lot carrying a $10 purchaser's fee for the auctioneer, in addition to the city's commission and the advertising.

Alderman Woodward summarized: "One-third of the properties to be sold are improved, so the average realized should be $1,000 per property. That means this Seattle auctioneer will be paid, in all, $12,500 for two days' work conducting this sale. I think the public should know the fact that we put up the $4,500 for the advertising, we put up the properties, we take the chance, we put up all the cash, this man puts up not one cent."

Alderman Marchant declared that if the local auctioneers had been given the chance to make good and had failed, warrant would exist for bringing in an outsider to handle the business. "I am not anxious to push the sale of city lands at bargain counter prices."

WHY EXPERIMENT
Mayor Pendergast supported the auction sale and employment of Mr. Austin. "Why experiment with our own auctioneers when we have this expert available?" He pointed out that the Oak Bay sale was locally advertised, while the Victoria sale would be broadcasted through Mr. Austin's clientele in many cities where he has successfully operated.

Alderman Woodward asked, "Who pays?" and the Mayor admitted that the whole expense would be borne by the city. He was confident of public support in the venture, stating, "People want these properties back in the revenue producing tax list; many told me give them away if it is necessary to get the lands back into the revenue producing class."

Alderman Todd recalled that the proposal to auction the city's lands was no new project, being more than one year old, with tentative negotiations with the Austin Company progressing under previous land committees of the council. "It was a mere coincidence that the Oak Bay Lands failed and secured the Austin Company to conduct their sale, but was a valuable testimonial to the reputation of the firm, as doubtless the Oak Bay Council would have preferred to employ local auctioneers, had business conditions not urged employment of the Seattle firm."

FEEL QUALIFIED
Strong protests were read to the council from McCloy and Company and Maynard and Sons, both urging the claims of Victoria taxpayers to preferment in any business and the ability of Victoria concerns to handle the sale for the city.

Alderman Marchant then urged tabling the proposals for one week "to give the public time to study the matter." Alderman Dewart protested that the time was speeding by and much work had to be completed before August 20, the date having been set to coincide with the height of the tourist traffic, on Mr. Austin's suggestion.

Alderman Woodward doubted the reason assigned, declaring "This auctioneer wants to clinch things before we change our minds, he has doubtless heard of other cases, such as the funeral parlors, permits and subdivision plans, voted and then uncarried." The motion to hold the sale carried. Alderman Woodward, Cullin, Blair, Marchant, Todd and Mayor Pendergast voting in favor and Alderman Woodward, Marchant and Shanks opposing the sale.

CONTRACTS AWARDED BY BOARD FOR WORK ON OAK BAY SCHOOL

Smith of Oak Bay was awarded the contract for supplying and installing of heating apparatus in the two additional rooms that are being constructed at the Oak Bay High School, at a special meeting of the Oak Bay School Board held in the High School last night. Five tenders were received, the lowest being accepted. The work will cost $911.35.

The Hiker Company of Victoria was awarded the contract for providing the seats and desks for the new addition. They will furnish fifty desks at $18.50 each.

Primer Lister was appointed to the teaching staff of the Oak Bay High School. There is still another vacancy on this staff which will most likely be filled at the board's regular meeting which takes place on Monday, July 20.

SOUVENIRS SALABLE IN EVENING HOURS

Council Amends By-law to Promote Opportunity For Tourist Trade

To permit dealers in souvenirs for tourists to do business legally after 6 o'clock in the evening, the City Council last night put through first readings an amendment to the shops closing by-law, the change consisting of eliminating from the paragraph setting out exempt lines of trade the words "souvenir post cards" and substituting "post cards, souvenirs."

Alderman Marchant opined that the change would enable Japanese stores to keep open at all hours, and would possibly degenerate into a general practice of keeping open, on grounds that almost anything may become a "souvenir."

Alderman Brown considered "We had better stop this hours of closing business altogether, and let them all sell what they like."

RETURNS UNCONVERTED

Alderman Woodward declared: "I am just back from the United States, where I saw groceries and other businesses open at all hours of the day and night. I was not converted, and I do not think such a proposal as that of Alderman Brown would be advisable. "Souvenirs" should be defined. I am anxious to facilitate this by-law provided it does not throw the town wide open. As the representative of the retail clerks I ask they be safeguarded. Stores must not keep open because they sell souvenirs, that must be the prime business," he urged.

The Aldermen agreed, and when putting the amendment through its readings did so with the understanding that any recommendations by City Solicitor Pringle, necessary to strictly limit the concession, will be incorporated in the amended by-law at the final reading.

ASK FOR SPECIAL CAR TO TRANSPORT LATE PASSENGERS

Complaints to Police Cause Esquimalt Council to Make Request

Owing to complaints having been lodged with the Chief of the Esquimalt Police that objectionable persons on the Esquimalt cars at night caused passengers annoyance, the Esquimalt Council will urge upon the British Columbia Electric Railway Company the necessity of placing more cars on the Esquimalt run at night. At the present time, councillors said, there was a fifteen minute service in Esquimalt. There were only three cars on the road altogether. In consequence these were almost always crowded.

With increased street car travel resulting from the opening of beer parlors, Esquimalt residents are now clamoring for an improved service. At the meeting last night Reeve Matheson asserted that the B.C. Electric Railway was always ready to give an attentive ear to the requests—or suggestions of its patrons. That the company will do something to better the car service, particularly at nights, he was certain, he declared.

Suggestion has been made that there be a late car, running after the closing of the beer parlors.

OFFICIAL OPENING OF PARK IN 1926

Esquimalt War Memorial Park Will Not be Opened This Year

The opening of the Esquimalt War Memorial Park has been postponed. The Esquimalt Municipal Council which met last night passed a vote on this by unanimous voice.

"There may come another council next year which will be more interested in park work than is this one, and they may be in a position to and wish to spend more money on their public grounds," said Reeve Matheson. "Under these circumstances I think that we might well leave the formal opening of the Esquimalt War Memorial Park until next year."

The tenders for work upon big bronze tablets which were to be erected in the park will therefore not be considered yet. The council was to have considered suggestions from Varro Limited and from J. P. Johnson for work in this connection, but the matter has now been laid over.

Seats and swings will be erected
